THE ART OF EXCELLENCE

The 128 crowns a 40-year collaboration between Germán Frers and Nautor Swan, blending high performance with long-range prestige. With sleek lines and naval precision, the Swan 128 sets a new benchmark in beauty and integrity.

Spanning 39 meters of sculpted excellence, it features a semi-raised deckhouse and a three-zone cockpit, offering clarity and comfort. Below, a panoramic saloon and a full-beam suite frame tailored statement. With a refined sail plan and an advanced hull, it portrays power, agility, and beauty at sea.

Aiming to unite performance and beauty beyond the superyacht norm, the largest Maxi, remains agile, personal, and crafted to each owner's vision. From cockpit to saloon, the Swan 128 delivers without compromise.

GERMÁN FRERS

THE NAVAL ARCHITECT

The Swan 128 perfectly embodies the Swan concept of the sporty cruiser, a yacht designed for long ocean voyages but also perfectly at ease in major international competitions, without needing to change any of its characteristics.

MICHELETTI
THE EXTERIOR
DESIGNER

The design plays with light and shadow through carefully chosen materials, creating a sense of "quayside speed", a visual dynamism even when the yacht is at rest. The streamlined deckhouse flows seamlessly into a three-zone cockpit layout, offering guest comfort, clarity, and unmistakable Swan style. With optional features like a retractable rigid bimini, the design holds innovation with timeless sophistication.

MISA
POGGI
THE INTERIOR
DESIGNER

In collaboration with Nautor Swan's in-house design team, we brought a deeply personal and refined touch to the Swan 128's interior. With a rich palette of natural oak, premium leathers, and curated textiles, every element can be tailored to reflect the owner's individual style. From layout to finishes, the design process is a true collaboration, ensuring each yacht is not only luxurious, but entirely unique. The result is an interior that feels both timeless and intimately personal.
